Private! How often have we seen that word on a door, on a folder or a letter and been curious, wanted to have a look, a peek at what is behind that "private" notice? Curiosity is a normal part of human nature. It would seem that for many the idea of privacy, of a space - physical, emotional or social which we can call our own and over which we can have control is important. We can decide who may be admitted, granted access or not. The idea of privacy and of a right to privacy is something which is very jealously guarded by some people, some of whom may be said to be in the public eye, and yet who want to control the access, the amount of information which other people may have of them. I wonder how illusory this idea of privacy is, though? There is so much information, so much data out there in the world, information about our whereabouts, data about our spending habits, information about our interests, data about our friends and family. How much is known and by whom about us? The rise of technology whilst it has its positive side, allowing almost instant communication around the world, comes also with its negative side, an often unwitting, unnoticed surrender of our privacy. E-mails can be very easily shared so can our Facebook friends, contacts and the communities of which we are part, and GPS technology enables our every movement to be tracked. If we stopped and thought about the surrender of our privacy would it worry, alarm even frighten us, especially as the information and data can be used in all kinds of ways which we would not wish? Yet there is one who is far greater than any information gathering and storage system whom we acknowledge and recognise in every act of worship - God. God will only use the knowledge of us for our own good.

Celebrating the licensing of Lay Worship Leaders

On Sunday June 14th, we were pleased to welcome members from throughout the Blaenwysg community, families and visitors when Bishop John Davies licensed Lizbeth Matthews and Siân Miller as Lay Worship Leaders, and celebrated the rich life of the Blaenwysg community. We were blessed with lovely weather as we celebrated this happy day. Since the licensing, Liz and Siân regularly take services at Crai and Defynnog.

Agincourt 600

The Battle of Agincourt, on 25 October 1415, is one of the best-known events in British history. The story of Henry V's forces epic defeat of a much larger French army has been immortalised in familiar tales, plays and poetry familiar. What is less well known is the role played by Wales in Henry's stirring victory. Five hundred Welsh archers and 23 men-at-arms travelled to fight in France and were key to Henry V's success at Agincourt. Many of these brave men came from the Brecon, from towns and villages strung out along what became the A40. As one of the villages that supplied men to the ranks of the Welsh archers 600 years ago, Trecastle did its bit to mark the anniversary of the Battle of Agincourt by hosting the Agincourt 600 Wales touring exhibition compiled by Brian Davies at St David's Church, Llywel. You can find out more about events at <http://agincourt600wales.com>.

News from the Pews

St Cynog, Defynnog

On Wednesday July 8th, St Cynog's Church, Defynnog was visited by HRH the Prince of Wales. This private visit allowed Prince Charles to see the famous Defynnog yew tree. His Royal Highness met the Vicar and members of the local community including children from Ysgol Pontsenni. The party was joined by Lady Shân Legge-Bourke, Lord Lieutenant of Powys.

After admiring the beautiful building, the Prince braved the damp morning and was shown around the yew by a yew tree historian. The children sang Calon Lân and Sospan Fach. His Royal Highness thought that the children should be practising for the National Eisteddfod or at least the Millennium Stadium!

St Ilid, Crai

The first Church Flower Festival took place on the weekend of 11th & 12th July. The theme was UN World Population Day and many local organisations decorated a window representing a country of their choice. It was a joy to see the church full of beautiful flowers and so many people getting together on Friday evening to set up the windows. Refreshments in the village hall were an added delight.

Several past residents spent a happy time chatting to old friends. The church registers were available for viewing and many residents took the opportunity to swap stories and reminisce.

We would like to say a big thank you to everyone who made the weekend a success by visiting and especially to those who took part making such eye-catching displays.

Capel Rhydybriw, Sennybridge

As always, the summer months are quiet at Rhydybriw but we are always pleased to extend a welcome to visitors and those who work at the camp since it is an open church. Please remember that the chapel is available 24/7 for private prayer. We look forward to hosting the combined service for the benefice on Sunday 29th November at 10 am. Please join us.

St David, Llywel

We were delighted to host the Agincourt 600 Wales touring exhibition in August with a flower festival based on the theme The Archers' Journey. After weeks of preparation the church was unlocked ready for the flower arrangers, the people who would transform the interior to a bright colourful spectacle. Saturday morning arrived with the weather better than expected and as the church door opened there was an amazing smell and a heart warming vision of the church full of flowers. The flower festival weekend and the following days when the church was open daily for the exhibition were fantastically supported and the Friends of St David's would like to thank everyone who made it possible, by volunteering, sponsoring and visiting. The rest of the day and the weekend raced by with fantastic support from the local community and visitors passing through. Conversations were plentiful, whether people came to see the flowers, the exhibition, the church or to enjoy tea and cake in Ysgoldy Fach, wherever you looked people were chatting and enjoying each others company.

It was great to be a part of an enjoyable event that not only raised money to go towards our much needed repairs but more importantly brought people together in a church that has a lot to offer its visitors whether as a bustling centre to an organised event or a quiet reflective place of worship.

St Teilo, Llandeilo'r Fân

The ladies of St. Teilo's church congregation have been busy putting together a floral display depicting the town of Brecon at the time of the Battle of Agincourt, as part of the Flower Festival at Llywel Church. It was decided to depict the Cathedral (or Priory Church as it would have been then) up on its hill above the town and to use red and gold flowers to represent the Arms of the King and Knights who would have led the archers into battle. The pages of Latin in the Prayer Book represented the form of Service the Benedictine monks would have used at the time in the Priory. Congratulations to Llywel church for the well planned and very interesting flower festival and exhibition.

St Mary, Traeanglas

At the combined service on Sunday 31st May, it was a pleasure to welcome everyone from the other churches in the Benefice.

We now look forward to our Annual Fund Raising on Friday 16th October in the Hall in Trecastle. Please join us.

Harvest 2015: Sowing seeds of peace for vulnerable women in Delhi.

“What good is it, my brothers and sisters, if you say you have faith but do not have works? Can faith save you? If a brother or sister is naked and lacks daily food, and one of you says to them, ‘Go in peace; keep warm and eat your fill’, and yet you do not supply their bodily needs, what is the good of that? So faith by itself, if it has no works, is dead.” (James 2 verses 14-17)

This Harvest the benefice of Blaenwysg will be joining Us. (the charity formerly known as the USPG) in supporting the Delhi Brotherhood Society (DBS) as it reaches out to vulnerable women in Delhi who are facing violence and discrimination.

The Delhi Brotherhood Society (DBS), with support from Us., runs a women’s empowerment programme that is bringing peace to Delhi’s marginalised communities.

One aspect of this work involves Women’s Community Councils, at which prominent members of the community hold hearings to resolve local disputes – often situations of domestic violence and marital conflict. The couples, and members of their family, are summoned to appear and resolutions can be reached without the need for fines, court fees or imprisonment that would further impoverish families.

One of the reasons for the success of the councils is that women in the community are both witnesses to proceedings and able to verify whether rulings are being upheld. The people are accountable to each other.

The councils are also an example of inter-faith co-operation. While DBS is a Christian organisation, the councils are in the hands of the people – whether Hindu, Muslim or Christian. There is no discrimination according to faith.

DBS council facilitator Kiran Bala said: ‘There is much injustice inflicted upon women. But God continually raises people up to challenge these atrocities. When DBS intervenes in a situation of injustice, it is the intervention of God.’

DBS also operates a 24-hour helpline that receives up to 35 calls per day. The helpline workers can provide an emergency response and shelter if required. Sometimes they contact the police. Other times they use the community councils to resolve disputes.

DBS is also working to inform women about their legal rights, and it provides vocational skills training so that women are better able to support their families.

Your donations will fund shelter, counselling and legal support.

Sorry for any inconvenience ... and for the dreadful pun!

On May 8th Powys County Council closed the door for the last time on Sennybridge public local businesses were the wherabouts of the desperate visitors often could use their own lavatories. Since the closure inundated with requests for nearest public loos and asked shopkeepers if they facilities.

The Upper Usk Valley Rural Alliance was determined to ensure that this vital public service did not disappear. Working closely with Powys County Council, other local organisations and businesses, the UUV RA took possession of the keys on Friday 14th August. After a busy weekend of cleaning and a quick makeover, the loos were reopened on Monday 17th.

Local people and businesses are delighted to welcome the reopening as a community venture and we hope it will ensure that visitors will visit Sennybridge now that they can spend a penny again.

The lavatories will be open from 9am to 5pm daily.

Trecastle Tug Of War - YFC Rally, The Royal Welsh, Tenbury Nationals And now Europe?

Readers know about recent success of Trecastle Tug Of War Teams but do you know of the fantastic achievements of this small YFC club in its 50 year history?

Senior Men

In the mid 60's the senior men's team won at The Royal Welsh Show, achieving a first for a Brecknock YFC club. This was repeated twenty years later when they didn't lose an end. They proudly represented Wales at the last ever Stoneleigh Royal Show in 2008.

Ladies

They have enjoyed enjoyed success, winning at The Royal Welsh Show in 2002 and representing Wales at Stoneleigh in 2003.

Juniors

Since 2011, the 'Tiny Tots' as they are affectionately called, have won the YFC Rally five times. They were first junior team to win the 2013 National Finals in Lampeter and won the 2014 Welsh Tug Of War Championship in Carmarthen, another first for a YFC team. Narrowly missing first place at The Royal Welsh Show, they came third at the National Finals in Tenbury.

2015

What a year! All three teams won comfortably at the YFC Rally. The juniors, 4x4 ladies and men came second at The Welsh Open Finals in Carmarthen. At The Royal Welsh, the ladies were placed third and the men fifth, both respectable results. The 4x4 team represented Wales at the National finals in Bedford and came fourth. The juniors won the day at Builth without losing an end and earned their place in Trecastle's history by WINNING at the Nationals in Tenbury! Saturday 29th August saw the juniors achieve a glorious 14th place (out of 40) on their European tour in Holland.

Special mention goes to Will Workman and Lyn Davies who have put in so much effort in training all teams over the years as well as the leaders of Trecastle YFC.

"All of the work that Dave has carried out for me is always of a high quality and finish. He has refurbished two bathrooms in my home, and I am always complimented about how nice they are, and people always ask who did them for me."

"Don't be afraid to ask Dave about big renovation projects, it seems like no job is too big or too small for him. He has recently completely gutted one of my properties, and refurbished it from top to bottom, really sympathetically to the original style of the building."

"Dave is great at explaining things to me in basic terms too, so I don't feel stupid."
